

DO YOU WORK FOR THE POSTAL SERVICE?

By sharing your story, you can help us investigate any potential wrongdoing and advocate for needed reforms.

The United States Postal Service provides safe, timely communication for all Americans. Increasingly, that includes supporting U.S. elections by handling mail-in ballots, a function of vital importance during the COVID-19 pandemic.

But unprecedented turmoil has shaken the institution in recent months. Concerns are mounting that administrative changes could undermine the agency's basic mission: to deliver all Americans' mail safely and on time.

Report wrongdoing through our hotline:

POGO.ORG/USPS-HOTLINE

Why you can trust us:

The Project On Government Oversight (POGO) is a nonpartisan independent watchdog that investigates and exposes waste, corruption, abuse of power, and when the government fails to serve the public or silences those who report wrongdoing.

We champion reforms to achieve a more effective, ethical, and accountable federal government that safeguards constitutional principles.

POGO is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit and is not part of or associated with any government agency.

Know that POGO takes your privacy very seriously and has a track record of refusing to disclose the identities of those who reach out to us in confidence. If we want to use any details you provide, we will contact you directly and discuss how to do so in a way that you are comfortable with.

You can also always email reportcorruption@pogo.org or contact us through the Signal app at 1-202-656-9263. For your protection, do not use a government, contractor or grantee phone, fax, or computer to contact POGO.
